

BRIEF BIO:

Nicola Slater is the Manager of the SNAP[®] Implementation Unit – home of SNAP[®] (Stop Now And Plan) at Child Development Institute, in Toronto, Canada. Her academic background is in Early Child Development and Behaviour Management. She leads the SNAP[®] Implementation Team and business development activities of the unit in collaboration with Dr. Leena Augimeri, which includes negotiating SNAP[®] implementations and licensing. She is the first person a new organization will connect with if interested in a SNAP[®] implementation and is responsible for negotiating all SNAP[®] contracts. In addition to her SNAP[®] business skills, she is also an exceptional lead trainer and consultant for the SNAP[®] model programs. She has implemented SNAP[®] programs all over the world. Nicola is a skilled SNAP[®] facilitator, mentor, and program developer who has trained and supported hundreds of professionals in Canada, United States, Europe and Australia in the implementation and delivery of the SNAP[®] Model and continues to seek new SNAP[®] business opportunities (in Canada, United States and Europe). She is frequently requested to conduct presentations (e.g., conferences, community events) promoting the SNAP[®] model and sharing her experiences pertaining to SNAP[®] implementations.
