

POWERED BY THE MINDS AT CHILD DEVELOPMENT INSTITUTE

BRIEF BIO:

Nicola Slater is the Manager, SNAP® Business Development and Affiliate Relations part of the SNAP Implementation Unit – home of SNAP (Stop Now And Plan) at Child Development Institute, in Toronto, Canada. Her academic background is in early child development and behaviour management. She leads the business development activities of the SNAP® Implementation Unit in collaboration with Dr. Leena Augimeri, which includes negotiating SNAP implementations and licensing. She is one of the first people a new organization will connect with if interested in becoming a SNAP Affiliate and SNAP® implementation and is responsible for negotiating all SNAP contracts.

In addition to her business skills, she is also an exceptional lead trainer and consultant for the SNAP model programs and responsible for leading the implementation and training team that conduct all SNAP training and consultation activities including fidelity audits. She has supported the implementation of SNAP programming all over the world. Nicola is a skilled SNAP facilitator, mentor, and program developer who has trained and supported hundreds of professionals worldwide including Canada, United States and Europe in the implementation and delivery of the SNAP Model. She continues to seek new SNAP business opportunities worldwide.

Nicola is frequently requested to conduct presentations (e.g., conferences, community events) promoting the SNAP model and sharing her experiences pertaining to implementation. Nicola is a principal member of the SNAP national expansion team and is passionate about working to support at-risk children and their families to ensure these children find positive means to experience fulfillment, happiness and success within their homes, schools and communities.

On a personal note, Nicola is the mother of two very active sons and loves spending time with her family where they enjoy the outdoors and exploring new and wonderful communities and countries.
